Flagship Solution: Teacher's Pet

About Teacher's Pet

Teachers Pet is an innovative education technology (EdTech) solution developed by Innobuntu Group, designed to transform and modernize administrative processes within the education sector.

Built with educators in mind, Teachers Pet addresses one of the biggest challenges in schools — the burden of manual administration. From record-keeping and reporting to communication and data management, many educators spend valuable time on tasks that take away from teaching and learner engagement.

Teachers Pet streamlines and digitizes these processes into a single, user-friendly platform, enabling educators and institutions to operate more efficiently and effectively.

Our vision for teacher's PET

To become a leading digital companion for educators across Africa and beyond, revolutionizing school administration and enabling education systems to thrive in the digital age.

Why Teacher's PET

What makes us different

Teachers Pet is more than a system — it is a complete ecosystem designed to empower educators, strengthen school management, and unlock the full potential of teaching and learning.

Impact

By integrating this structured workflow, Teachers Pet:

- Eliminates manual administration
- Improves accountability and transparency
- Enhances data-driven decision making
- Reduces teacher workload
- Creates a more efficient and productive education environment

One of the biggest advantages is time-saving automation. Teachers often spend hours on repetitive admin work like attendance registers, report writing, marks recording, and communication with parents. Teacher's Pet reduces this burden by automating much of it, allowing educators to focus more on actual teaching.

It also improves accuracy and record keeping. Manual systems (especially paper-based or spreadsheets) are prone to errors, lost data, or inconsistencies. A digital system keeps everything structured, backed up, and easy to retrieve when needed.

Another strong benefit is better communication between teachers, learners, and parents. Instead of relying on notebooks or delayed messages, updates can be shared instantly—whether it's academic progress, behavior reports, or school announcements.

Teacher's Pet can also support data-driven decision making. Schools and educators can quickly identify struggling learners through performance tracking, helping with early intervention rather than waiting until exams.

There's also the advantage of centralised access. Whether it's lesson plans, learner records, or assessments, everything is stored in one place and accessible from different devices. This is especially useful in schools with multiple teachers handling the same class.

From a management perspective, it improves school efficiency and accountability. Administrators can monitor performance trends across grades, track teacher workload, and ensure compliance with reporting standards.

Lastly, it adds value through scalability—it can grow with the school, whether you're managing a single classroom or expanding to multiple schools or districts without changing systems.
